Mark & Helen Shaw

Diamond

Power couple Mark and Helen Shaw have been travelling widely within Australia and New Zealand to share with people about the benefits of dōTERRA essential oils since 2011.

Before embarking on their dōTERRA journey, both Mark and Helen led busy professional lives in their own respective fields.

Mark first came to know about dōTERRA while exploring for solutions to support his health. Hailing from the building industry, Mark takes a hands-on personal approach when learning about essential oils. He is passionate about teaching people to look into alternatives and to be proactive with the choices they make.

Helen is a qualified AromaTouch Technique trainer with professional qualifications in early childhood, social work and counselling. For Helen, natural health has always played a big part in her life. She strives to raise a healthy family and is passionate about empowering families and communities.
